

Top 5 things every undergraduate researcher can do at the library

Meet with a subject librarian

If you have any questions about your research project, from finding a focus to discovering more resources, a subject librarian can help! Representing over 60+ disciplines, we've got you covered.

library.unc.edu/support/consultations

Search our databases

Our E-Resource by Discipline page lists all available databases by subject, making it quicker and easier to find what you need than ever before!

guides.lib.unc.edu/sb.php

Request any book or article

With over 7 million books and many millions of articles, the UNC Library provides a wealth of information — but if we don't have what you need, we'll get it for you! Just request it through Carolina BLU.

library.unc.edu/services/circulation/doc_delivery

Delve into primary sources

With collections in North Carolina history, the American South, and other topics, Wilson Library's special collections can provide the primary sources you need.

library.unc.edu/wilson/research/search

Design a conference poster

The Undergraduate Library's Design Lab and Davis Library's Research Hub can help you visualize your data in new ways. Take your research to the next level!

library.unc.edu/house/designlab library.unc.edu/services/data